

The Milton Public Library stands on the land of the Neponset tribe of the Massachusetts people. We also acknowledge our neighboring Indigenous nations: the Wampanoag to the East, the Pokanoket to the South, the Nipmuc to the West, and the Naumkeag and Pawtucket to the North. We pay our respects to indigenous Elders, past and present, of these communities and any others who may be here today. This is and always will be indigenous land. We're grateful to the work of Native Land Digital upon whose research this acknowledgment draws.
